**Narratives of Civic Duty: How National Stories Shape Democracy in Asia** (2022)

Cornell University Press | Studies of the Weatherhead East Asian Institute

In Narratives of Civic Duty, I investigate the impulse behind a sense of civic duty in democracies. Why do some citizens feel a responsibility to vote, pay taxes, or take up arms in defense of one's country? Through comparing democratic societies in East Asia and elsewhere, I show that the obligation to be a good citizen is rooted in a force long thought to be detrimental to democracy itself: national attachments.
