Population, Education, and Health
Seminar Series

Thursdays, 12:30–1:30 pm

January 26  Matthew Sveum, Agricultural and Applied Economics, University of Missouri
            Student Center – Room 2205

February 9  Lloyd Grieger, Department of Sociology, Yale University
             Memorial Union—S016

February 23 Jarron Saint Onge, Health Policy and Management, University of Kansas
              Memorial Union—S016

March 9      Austin Nichols, Abt & Associates
             Student Center—Room 2205

March 23     Sarah May, Arizona State University
             Student Center – Room 2205

April 11-13  Greg Duncan, School of Education, University of California-Irvine

April 11, 3:30 – 4:30 pm
“Persistence and Fadeout in the Impacts of Child and Adolescent Interventions”
            Student Center – Room 2501

April 12, 1:30 – 2:30 pm
“Restoring Opportunity: The Crisis of Inequality and the Challenge American Education”
            Tate Hall—Room 22

April 13, 1:30-2:30 pm
“Risky Business: Correlation and Causation in Longitudinal Studies of Skill Development”
            Student Center – Room 2501

April 27     Ginny Ramseyer Winter, School of Social Work, University of Missouri
             Student Center – Room 2205

Sponsored by the Truman School of Public Affairs; Mizzou Advantage; School of Medicine; College of Human Environmental Sciences; College of Engineering; School of Journalism; Trulaske College of Business; College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources; College of Education; College of Arts &
Science; School of Health Professions; and the Provost’s Office. For more information about this biweekly seminar series, please contact Eileen Avery averye@missouri.edu